

About
Long Island Golf Camps

Long Island Golf Camps was started in 2003 when an All-Day summer golf camp was started for the first time at Peninsula Golf Club in Massapequa, NY. Long Island Golf Camps has since hosted more than five hundred young golfers at three different locations. Long Island Golf Camps focuses on the fundamentals of golf so essential in learning the game correctly. This instruction also stresses the game's etiquette, with every golfer learning how to respect the rules, the game and each other. The second thing we focus on is having FUN, and that's why the kids love our camps. "Learn, play and have fun" is the Long Island Golf Camp's motto.

A DAY AT CAMP

On day one, camp will begin with an introductory conference so each child is familiar with the golf staff and with each other. This is followed by a strict explanation of safety procedures and camp rules. Then the fun begins as the camp participants are separated into three groups. Each golfer will alternate between full swing, chipping, and putting instruction until lunch. Lunch is prepared by the Colonial Springs Restaurant staff. After lunch, golfers will play one of the three, 9-hole championship courses at Colonial Springs. The round will be supervised by a member of the golf staff. Each day is conducted similarly, with contests and competitive games added to create even more enthusiasm and excitement. Prizes are given to the winners.
